

SEPA XML Analytics

A Tier 1 UK International Transaction Bank recently approached B2 with an urgent requirement for outsourced SEPA XML analytics expertise to analyse a field-by-field comparison of the rules related to various ISO formats and how they differ from CGI. B2 successfully completed this assignment in the 3 week timeframe dictated by the client. B2 has worked on, and continues to work on, many assignments for this bank and is proud to have been an integral part of their strategic channel banking initiative, having held a Master Services Agreement with this bank for expert consultancy since 2010. This bank turned to B2 due to the combination of our significant experience dealing with work of this nature (we have a strong team of industry experts in banking formats and integration), and our flexible resourcing model that makes this expertise available to clients at very short notice.
